*3rd batch is little over capacity so we have an option to shift few participants from 3rd batch to 4th or 5th batch. So if anyone is interested to move in the 4th or 5th batch then kindly send mail to training2017@scfbio-iitd.res.in immediately.

Important Instructions

*Participants will get the training only on those modules for which they have opted and submitted their fees. Any change in the module selection, if already informed will be taken care-off.

*Participants who have registered and have already paid their fees but their names are missing from the list can mail us at training2017@scfbio-iitd.res.in (kindly put urgent in the subject line).

*The sequence in which the training programme will proceed is Genome Analysis (1st, 2nd & 3rd day), Protein Folding (4th, 5th & 6th day), Drug Design (7th, 8th & 9th day) and High Performance Computing (HPC) (10th day) for each batch. Any Sunday falling in between will be off and won't be counted in the sequence given above.

* Participants are also requested to bring their laptop (if you have, though it is not mandatory) otherwise we will provide you Desktops during hands-on session in the workshop. The only benefit of carrying your own laptop is, you can install the free softwares, manuals, tutorials to be used during training and also can take other training related stuffs on your own laptop.

Important Announcement regarding Accommodation

There is limited accommodation available during the training, so those who are coming from outside Delhi and can arrange for the same on their own will be highly appreciated. If you don't have any other option then we will provide you the same on payment basis. It will be provided to those participants who have already requested the same. Charges will be approx. Rs. 300 -500 per day depending on the type of rooms available.

We will send the details of accommodation over mail to individual participants latest by 7th July, 2017.

Snacks (Morning and Evening) and Lunch will be provided to all the participants at the training venue.

In case of any query regarding accommodation or any other issue, kindly mail to training2017@scfbio-iitd.res.in

Accommodation have been arranged for those who have opted for it and will get the details on their mail IDs.
